

Organisers:

Fernando Arias Guillén

Adrian Jobson

Ayudas Ramón y Cajal

(RYC2018-025440-I)

Online:

<https://universidaddevalladolid.webex.com/universidaddevalladolid/j.php?MTID=m1a17fddf74128077ec38b696fb208>

20c

Universidad de Valladolid

Ayuntamiento de Valladolid

VALLADOLID
ciudad amiga

Instituto Universitario de
Historia Simancas
Universidad de Valladolid

Facultad de Filosofía y Letras
Universidad de Valladolid

NOBLE REBELLION IN MEDIEVAL EUROPE 1150-1350

3-4 March 2022

Universidad de Valladolid

Facultad de Filosofía y Letras

Sala de Juntas and Aula 09

Thursday 3 March. Sala de Juntas

09:30 – 10:00

Registration

10:00 – 10:15
Welcome Address

Opening Remarks and

10:15 – 11:30

Keynote 1

*Alice Taylor (King's College London),
'The Problem of (Noble) Politics in Twelfth-Century Europe'*

Chair: Fernando Arias Guillén

11:30 – 12:00

Break

12:00 – 13:30 Session 1. Rulers, Royals and
Rebellious Nobles

*Lindy Grant (University of Reading),
'The Female Ruler and the Rebellious
Noble: Eleanor of Aquitaine and Blanche of Castile'*

*Mario Lafuente Gómez (Universidad de Zaragoza), 'A Rebellious Life: The Complicated Relationship between
Infante Fernando and King Peter IV of Aragon (1347-1363)'*

Chair: Ana Rodríguez (CSIC)

13:30 – 15:30

Lunch

15:30 – 17:00 Session 2. Noble Rebellion I:
Resisting Royal Power

Maria João Branco (Universidade Nova de Lisboa), 'The Quarrels of Sancho I of Portugal (1185-1211), the Affirmation of Royal Power and the Resistance of the Nobility: Old Problems, New Ideas'

Nora Berend (University of Cambridge), 'A Century of Noble Discontent: Grievances, Revolt, and the Nobility's Rise to Power in Thirteenth-Century Hungary'

Chair: Alice Taylor

17:00 – 17:15 Break

17:15 – 18:45 Session 3. The State and Aristocratic Rebellion

Jonathan Sephard (University of Oxford), 'Byzantine Advice to Would-Be Rebels (Bulgars Apart): "Don't!"'

Daniele Dibello (Universiteit Ghent), '(Dis) Obeying to the Republic. Patricians, Social Connections, and State Stability in Medieval Venice'

Chair: Nora Berend

Friday 4 March. Aula 09

10:00 – 11:15 Keynote 2

Nick Vincent (University of East Anglia), 'From Rebellion and Reconciliation to Treason and Disinheritance: Why, When, and How in the Anglo-French World'

Chair: Adrian Jobson

11:15 – 11:45 Break

11:45 – 13:15 Session 4. Hero or Traitor?:
The Leaders of Rebellion

Alheydis Plassmann (Universität Bonn), 'Choosing Figureheads for Rebellion in 12th-Century Germany?'

Simon Egan, (Trinity College, Dublin), 'Edmund Albanach de Búrca: Gaelicization, Lordship, and Rebellion in Connacht, c.1330-c.1375'

Chair: Lars Kjaer

13:15 – 15:30 Lunch

Afternoon Sessions: Sala de Juntas

15:30 – 17:00 Session 5. Noble Rebellion II:
Altruism or Self-Interest?

Lars Kjær (New College of the Humanities, London), 'Aristocratic Rebellion or Royal Autogolpe? Resistance and Political Change in Twelfth-Century Denmark'

Fernando Arias Guillén (Universidad de Valladolid), 'Rebels with a Cause? A Comparison of the Aragonese Union (1283-1287) and the Rebellions against Alfonso X of Castile (1272-1273/1282)'

Chair: Sandra de la Torre (UVa)

17:00 – 17:15 Break

17:15 – 18:45 Session 6. The Aftermath of Rebellion

Adrian Jobson (University of East Anglia), 'As We Forgive Them That Trespass Against Us?': Royalists, Montfortians and Reconciliation in post-Evesham England'

Kim Bergqvist (Stockholms Universitet), 'Traitor's Kin: The Treatment of Rebels' Kindred in Medieval Sweden (13th-14th Centuries)'

Chair: Lindy Grant

18:45 – 19:00 Closing Remarks